

Week #6

Salma and I are working on our project together from start to finish. Our roles have changes throughout the the process of the whole project.

- While Amanda focused on the web site, my job is to convert the website into an application which will be friendly for any devices including ios and android.
- Salma is also taking care of the security part of the app where students/users will need to log into the app in order to get notification and access to the app's services.
- Salma is creating the database where the app will save the information selected by the users to send them notifications.
- Salma is responsible for testing and making sure that the application works
